Warning: Demo Platform

The virtual funds available on the demo platform allow you to familiarize yourself with our trading platforms. However, any gains or losses incurred in the demo environment are not indicative of results you may achieve on a live platform. Access to the demo platform is only valid for 30 days and will be automatically terminated thereafter. You may trade in a live environment once your account is opened and funded.

Warning: Internet Trading Risks

There are risks associated with using an internet trading system. These include, but are not limited to, errors in hardware, software, internet connection, or force majeure events (e.g., natural disasters, acts of God, war, or government action). We cannot control the signal power, its reception or routing via the internet, the configuration of your equipment, or the reliability of your connection. Therefore, we are not responsible for any communication failure, distortion, or delay. Please contact us immediately if you are unable to access your account, and we will execute your orders over the phone after completing our identification process. If we are unable to identify you, we cannot carry out your orders.

Warning: Risks of Margin Trading

Trading in currency and bullion, especially margin trading, carries the potential for both profit and loss, which may significantly exceed the amount of money you commit to any trade. Price movements in currency or bullion rates are influenced by various global factors, many of which are unpredictable. Sharp movements in prices may result in market action, making it impossible to settle adverse trades. We cannot guarantee the accuracy of any market predictions and cannot limit the maximum loss you may incur.
